The Humble

APOLOGY

of those commonly called

ANABAPTISTS.

In behalf of themselves and others of the
same judgment with them:

With their [illegible] of the late wicked and most horrible Insurrection and Rebellion acted in the City of LONDON.

Together
with a commendatory Preface of the [illegible] and most excellent
MASTER [illegible].

188

The Humble
APOLOGY
Of some commonly called
ANABAPTISTS,
In behalf of themselves and others of the VVith their VVith an Apology formerly presented to the KING'S most Excellent MAJESTY.

MVSEVM
BRITAN
NICVM

The Humble Apology of ſome commonly called Anabaptiſts, in behalf of themſelves and others of the ſame Judgement with them, with their Proteſtation againſt the late wicked and moſt horrid treaſonable Inſurrection and Rebellion acted in the City of London: together with an Apology formerly preſented to the Kings moſt Excellent Majeſty.

WE ſhould be ſtupid and ſenceleſs, if we did not deeply reſent thoſe black obloquies and reproaches caſt upon thoſe of our profeſsion and practice in the point of Baptiſm, by occaſion of the late moſt horrid Treaſon and Rebellion in this City of London.

We moſt ſadly ſee and feel that among many it is become enough to render any man criminal to be called an Anabaptist, or at least a ground sufficient to question his Loyalty and fidelity to the Kings Majesty.

We may not therefore be so negligent of our duty unto God in respect of our profession, or unto our selves and families, as silently to suffer our names and profession to be buried under such causeless infamy: neither may we be so much wanting of our duty to our King, as by such sullen silence to offer his Majesty just occasion of being jealous and suspicious of our Loyalty and Obedience, or to leave him without all possible rational security of our humble subjection and fidelity to him. We acknowledge that the Histories of Germany relate most dreadful things of the impious opinions and practices of some reputed Anabaptists destructive to all Government and humane Society. Although its to be observed what Cassander, a learned and moderate Papist, relates in his Epistle to the Duke of Gulick and Cleve, to this purpose. That there were certain people in Germany bearing the denomination of Anabaptists, who resisted and opposed the opinions and practices of those at Munster, and taught the contrary Doctrine, Whereby (in his opinion) they appeared to be incited by a Godly mind, and rendred themselves rather worthy of pity then persecution and perdition. And that in Holland those who have succeeded them, do in Doctrine and practice adhere to the same peaceable principles; is publiquely known. But the misguided zeal of some (otherwise minded in the point of Baptism) hath frequently, though unduely, imputed the like impious opinions, designs and intentions unto all that are called by that name; although their souls abhor the very memory of such impious doctrines, and their bloody consequences. That such evil opinions and practices are no natural or necessary concomitants or consequences of the Doctrine about Baptism, nor of any possible connexion with it, is easie to be discerned; yet by the like mistake we now

suffer

ſuffer under jealouſies, through the wicked Treaſon, Rebellion and Murder, of a few heady and diſtempered perſons, pretending to introduce a Civil and temporal reign and Government of Jeſus Chriſt by their ſwords, and to ſubvert all Civil Government and Authority.

Yet we cannot imagine a reaſon why their bloody tenents, and tragical actings, ſhould reflect upon thoſe of our perſwaſion, the perſons not being of our belief or practice about Baptiſm, but, to the beſt of our information, they were all (except one) aſſertors of Infant-Baptiſm, and never had communion with us in our Aſſemblies; nor hath there been any correſpondence, or converſe between us: but contrariwiſe, in their Meetings, they have inveighed bitterly againſt us, as worſhippers of the Beaſt, becauſe of our conſtant declaring againſt their conceited, wild interpretations of dark Prophecies, and enthuſiaſtical impulſes, and profeſſed and practiſed our duty of ſubjection to the Civil Magiſtracy.

And

And it is notoriously known, the very same persons, or at least the Leaders, and the most of them, formerly advanced their pretended Standard of Jesus Christ, as much against us as against any others. And it is as publiquely known, that even in this their Rebellion, such of us as were called thereunto (which were many) were ready to hazard our lives to suppress them.

And if such a constant continued opposition unto the impious tenents and practices of these persons both in our Doctrine and Lives, will not be esteemed a preghant and cogent evidence of our unspotted innocence from their Treason and Rebellion, and satisfie every man, that our Souls never entred into their secrets, we can only appeal to the All-seeing God, the Judge of all the earth, to vindicate us in his righteous judgement, who we are assured will judge and doe right *. In whose presence we Protest, that we neither had the least foreknowledge of the said late Treasonable Insurrection, nor did any of us in any kind or degree whatsoever, directly, or indirectly, contrive, promote, assist, abet, or approve the same: but do esteem it our duty to God, to his Majesty, and to our Neighbour, not only to be obedient, but also to use our utmost industry to prevent all such Treasons, Murders, and Rebellions; and to use, in all our Assemblies, constant prayers and supplications for his Majesty.

* Gen. 18. 25.

Wherefore we humbly beseech his Majesty, and desire all our fellow subjects, that our Actions, Doctrines and Lives, may be the only glasses through which they will look into our hearts, and pass judgement upon us, and that the tenents or opinions of others, either in this or foreign Kingdoms, may not be imputed to us, when our Doctrines and Lives do declare our abhorrency of them: We believing, that Jesus Christ himself, his Apostles, and Christian Religion, did consist with, and obey the Imperial Government that then was in the World,

World, and that we ought to obey his Majesty not only for wrath, but for conscience sake.

We desire therefore that it may be considered without prejudice, whether our perswasion in the matter of Baptism, hath any connexion with these Doctrines against Government? Or whether these can be the probable consequences or inferences from our Doctrine concerning Baptism? And we pray that it may be seriously considered, whether it be rational, just, or Christian, to impute all the errors and wickedness of any Sect of Christians in one age or Country, to the persons of another age and Country, called by the name of the former? especially when these errours or impieties gave not the name to the Sect, (as in our case) nor can be reasonably supposed to be the consequences of that opinion from whence the Sect had its denomination.

It would not be holden just to aver

every Protestant to believe Consubstantiation, or absolute Predestination and Reprobation, because Luther was zealous in the one, and Calvin in the other; why therefore should the errors and impieties of others, be imputed to us, whilst we earnestly contend against them? And as to our Doctrine of Baptism, we hope every Christian that hath searched the Scriptures, knoweth, that there wants not so much evidence, at least for our opinion and practice, as Christian charity may well allow, though in some mens judgements we should be esteemed mistaken; and it will be easily granted by the Learned, that there is no impiety in our Doctrine of Baptism, nor opposition to Civil Government, or his Majesties Authority; neither can the injury of our Neighbour be the natural consequence of it.

And therefore we humbly hope, That the Omnipotent power of Heaven and Earth will so dispose his Majesty and his Peoples hearts, that we may worship

God in peace and freedom, according to the Faith we have received, living a peaceable and quiet life in all godlineſs and honeſty.

Poſt-ſcript.

THat it may yet more fully appear, That our Principles ſuggeſted in this Apology about ſubjection to Magiſtracy and Government, againſt the contrary opinions and practices, are not new, much leſs proceeding from us upon the ſucceſsleſneſs of this Tragical enterpriſe, we have thought fit herewith to publiſh an Apology of our ancient and conſtant Principles, preſented with our humble Petition to the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, ſome moneths ſince, in the year, 1660.

William

William Kiffen.
John Batty.
Thomas Cooper.
John Pearſon.
Henry Hills.

Henry Den.
Thomas Lamb.
Philip Travors.
Thomas Penſon.
Fran. Smith.

Edward Harriſon.
Samuel Tull.
John Cox.
Jam. Knight.
Chr. Blackwood.

John Goſnold.
Tho. Bromhall.
Samuel Stanton.
John Browning.
Thomas Lathwel.

Edward Roberts.
John Man.
Z. Worth.

John Spilsbery.
Jer. Zanchy.
Joſeph Simpſon.

John Rix.
John Clayton.
Daniel Royſe.
Mark Cam.

An

An Apology of ſome called Anabaptiſts, in and about the City of London, in behalf of themſelves and others of the ſame Judgement with them.

FOraſmuch as it hath been our portion all along to ſuffer, not only ſome hard things in many of our perſons, but alſo very much in our reputations, through the unjuſt aſperſions and calumnies of our adverſaries, and ſuch, who, though they dayly behold our inoffenſive converſation, and do or may know our Faith and Doctrine, will not yet be delivered from thoſe groundleſs and injurious reports, which they have, without proof, concerning things or perſons, taken up, but contrariwiſe continue in preſs, pulpit and common diſcourſe, induſtriouſly to divulge things tending to our defamation, and more eſpecially for that purpoſe watching the opportunity of all revolutions and changes of perſons exerciſed in Government, which hath often hapned in theſe Nations of late years,

And

And inasmuch as the design of our adversaries therein hath appeared to be the rendring of us obnoxious to those that have had most power in their hand to offend and harm us, and have for that purpose invented such calumnies as might best accomplish that design, which although they have been various, and sometimes manifestly cross and contradictory one to another, yet having no other ground (that we know of) then the forementioned evil purpose; they have therefore both one and other, even all of them, been generally accompanied with the charge of disobedience to Magistracy and Civil Government.

We have therefore been necessitated (as alterations in Government have hapned) to renew our vindications in this publique manner, having very seldome opportunity otherwise to inform either Magistrates or people of the injuries done unto us, and which is much more, to the truth we do profess. And that in this present conjuncture of affairs, the mis-representation of us, either formerly or now, may not take impression upon any to the damage of us and our profession, we have thought it requisite not to bring to light any new matter, but only to extract out of our former Confessions of Faith, and Declarations, our constant Principles to which we have been (and shall alwayes endeavour (the Lord assisting us) that our practice may still be) conformable in this great point concerning Magistracy and civil Government, as by these extracts following may appear.

That

That Civil Magistracie is an Ordinance of God, set up by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well, and that in all lawful things commanded by them, subjection ought to be given by us in the Lord, not only for wrath, but for conscience sake; and that we are to make supplications and prayers for Kings, and all that are in Authority, that under them we may live a peaceable a quiet life in all godlines and honesty.

Confession of Faith of those Churches in London, which are commonly, though unjustly, called Anabaptists, Art. 47. printed in the several years, 1651, 1646, 1644, &c.

We who are falsly called Anabaptists, being as ready to obey our Civil Magistrates, as to profess our subjection to them in all lawful Commands, whatever is preached or printed of us, by any to the contrary, and whosoever have or shall accuse us, either to the Magistrates or to the common people, that we will not obey Authority, do falsely accuse us.

Declaration concerning a publique dispute printed in the year 1645. p. 4.

* And however it be a thing very desireable to godly men to have such to be their Governors as fear the Lord, inasmuch as together with their moral Principles, they are under more solemn bands of engagement as Christians, to execute Judgement and Justice, and faithfully to discharge their Trust; and inasmuch also as they will be more ready to protect godly men which generally are the hated of the world, and to propagate the Gospel in their Territories, then other men will be; yet what ever the Magistrate is in point of Religion, he is to be reverenced and obeyed in all those commands of his, which do not intrench upon, or rise up in opposition to the commands of God.

* Declaration by the several Congregational societies in and about the City of London, in way of vindication of themselves touching Liberty, Magistracy, &c. printed, 1647. p. 7. S. 3. & 4.

And we do freely acknowledge that Kingly Government established, guided and bounded by just and wholsom Laws, is both allowed by God, and a good accommodation to men.

Declaration of divers Elders and Brethren of Congregational Societies in and about the City of London the 10th of Nov. 1651.

That all people in every nation, as well members of Churches as others, ought for conscience sake to honour such as by the wise disposing providence of God, are their Rulers, and are to submit to the Civil Commands, not only of such Rulers as are faithful, but even to Infidels.

Declaration of several of the people called Anabaptists in and about the City of London, Decemb. the 12. 1659. The answer to the first Crimination.

Although we cannot answer in justification of every individual person that is of our profession in matters of Religion, no more then our Christian friends of other perswasions can do in behalf of all of their perswasions, yet we can say this, and prove it to all the world, that it hath been our profession, and is our real practice to be obedient to Magistracy in all things Civil, and willing to live peaceably under the Government established in this Nation: For we do believe and declare Magistracy to be an Ordinance of God, and ought to be obeyed in all lawful things.

These things we have herein recited, the rather because that such judgement as shall be made by any concerning us, may be fairly and duly taken and calculated from our own writings, and not from the asperſions unjustly cast upon us by such who have not only rendred many guilty for the offence sake of some one person, but also called others after the same name given to us, with whom we have had or held no correspondency or agreement, endeavouring to blemish our profession, by charging the whole party, not only with the guilt of many strange unsound opinions, such as were never received or allowed by them, but alſo with many actions wherein they have been leaſt of all, if at all concerned. And as for thoſe things wherein any of us, or other of our judgement have been actually concerned, we hope it hath proceeded from a due regard to thoſe invariable Rules given in the holy Scripture for the ordering our converſation with reſpect unto Magiſtracy, according to the beſt judgement could be made of them, and purſuant thereunto, done in obſervance of thoſe publique Edicts and Declarations, whereunto the moſt univerſal obedience, and conſtant adherence hath been required by thoſe that have had the power over us, and who have admitted us the leaſt of any people to diſpute the reaſon of Governments and laws.

as

And for that the ſubjection yielded by us to the powers that have been over us, hath proceeded from a conſcience not daring to diſobey, unleſs in ſuch things which we could not underſtand to be lawful, and the affections that have been manifeſted therein have ariſen from the enjoyment of that due liberty and protection which we have had in matters of Religion; we do hope and deſire that none of us upon the re-eſtabliſhment of the preſent Government, ſhall now be adjudged criminal by our preſent Governors, but that we may notwithſtanding, reap the benefit of that favour that hath been declared and tendred by the Kings Majeſty, and be protected from all injury and violence whatſoever, equally with others his

Majeſties

Majesties Subjects, in the quiet and peaceable enjoyment of our Religious and Civil Rights and Liberties, we desiring and endeavouring to behave our selves in all good conscience towards God and man, remembring that Rule of our Lord, that we are to render unto Cæsar the things which are Cæsars, and to God the things which are Gods; and that we, as well as Rulers, must certainly at the great day be accountable to the Just and Righteous Judge of all the earth, for all our doings.

FINIS.

THE WAY TO TRUE PEACE,

OR

A Calm, Seasonable, and Modest word in love,

To the { Independent, Phanaticks, Anabaptists, Presbyterians. } { Quakers, Papists, And Fifth Monarchists. }

With a Protestation of Supremacy that neither Anabaptist, Quaker, Independant, or Presbyterian can justly object against.

By a stedfast Member of the Church of England.

Be wise therefore O ye Bishops, be learned in the wayes of Charity O ye Ministers of the Gospel; Kiss the Son lest he be angry, &c.

AS the Temporal Magistrates do their duty to keep people in obedience by the power of the SWORD, so all Spiritual men ought also to keep the peace by the power of the WORD.

How long shall the silly sheep of England destroy one another for want of peaceable Preachers? How come people to be Fanatiks? Is it not for want of good Doctrine?

The children under seven years old, are all of one judgement throughout the World about Religion; and most people at age go together by the ears. O shame! The very Children may rise up in judgement against us.

1660 Jan. 29.